NAVIGATING THE FUTURE TOGETHER

May 1, 2019
10am -12pm
Welcome and Introductions

- Our ALO panel
- ACCJC Strategic Directions
- ALO perspectives
  - Challenges
  - Opportunities
- Q & A
ACCJC – Mission Driven

The Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges works with its member institutions to advance educational quality and student learning and achievement.

This collaboration fosters institutional excellence and continuous improvement through innovation, self-analysis, peer review, and application of standards.
Embracing Core Values

- Integrity
- Quality Assurance
- Institutional Improvement
- Peer Review
- Student Learning and Achievement
- Collegiality
Strategic Goal 1

Align accreditation processes and structures to support the dual purposes of institutional quality assurance and improvement.

- Annual Reporting/Outcomes
- Fiscal Review
- Taxonomy to Formative/Summative Review process
Strategic Goal 2

Improve educational programming to add greater value to the peer review process and ensure an effective and meaningful outcome.

- Resources
- Manuals
- Training
Strategic Goal 3

Establish and enhance communication strategies that reflect integrity, collegiality, and transparency of accreditation practices and actions.

- Relationship w/colleges (ACCJC portfolio model)
- Relationships with groups (CIO, ASCCC, RP, etc.)
- Webinars
- Conference
Strategic Goal 4

Implement strategic plan activities, including processes for comprehensive evaluation, to inform, monitor, and guide progress toward ACCJC mission fulfillment.

- E &P role
- Internal self-evaluations
- Evaluations of processes and experiences
How do we get from here to there?

ALO role – two-way conduit w/ACCJC

Beyond ALO role description:

- Accreditation champion
- Key resource: ISER, Sub Change, reports
- Maintain institutional memory
- Work with system/district
ALO Forum Panel Discussion

Panelists:

Brianna Hays, Senior Dean, Institutional Effectiveness, Success, & Equity, Cuyamaca College

Dr. Ray Somera, Vice President for Academic Affairs, Guam Community College

Dr. Jennifer Vega La Serna, Vice President, Academic Services, College of the Sequoias

Ms. Crystal VanderTuig, Director of Institutional Relations, San Joaquin Valley College
Questions and Reflections