

Paul L. Gaston, III

Paul L. Gaston, III, Trustees Professor Emeritus, Kent State University, is a frequent speaker at national conferences, a Distinguished Fellow of the American Association of Colleges & Universities, and an influential author. His most recent books are Revising General Education (2009, with Jerry Gaff), The Challenge of Bologna (2010), Higher Education Accreditation: How It's Changing, Why It Must (2014), and Credentials (2023, with Michelle Van Noy). He is the author also of two monographs on general education: General Education and Liberal Learning (2010) and General Education Transformed: How We Can, Why We Must (2015). He is also one of four authors of Lumina Foundation's Degree Qualifications Profile (2011, 2015). His current book, scheduled for publication in August 2024 by Routledge, will be titled Rebuilding Public Support for Higher Education: Practical Strategies for Principled Leaders. The forward is by ACCJC's Mac Powell. Gaston earned the M.A. and the Ph.D. from the University of Virginia, where he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow.